KEY PROJECT

How we helped a medical equipment & consumables manufacturing company that was grappling with stagnant sales

Intervention

- A detailed analysis of the product-wise consumption pattern of the customers was done
- Customer and product segmentation led to understanding the customer better and identifying their needs before they arise
- The underlying role of field sales was changed from order-taking to selling

Medical equipments

Outcome

Significant increase in productive visits, increased opportunity of cross-selling, cost-effective tour planning resulting in overall manpower cost reduction.
